

Is It Really Sin If It Doesn't Hurt Anyone?
 #2 in the WhyFi Series
 July 10, 2011

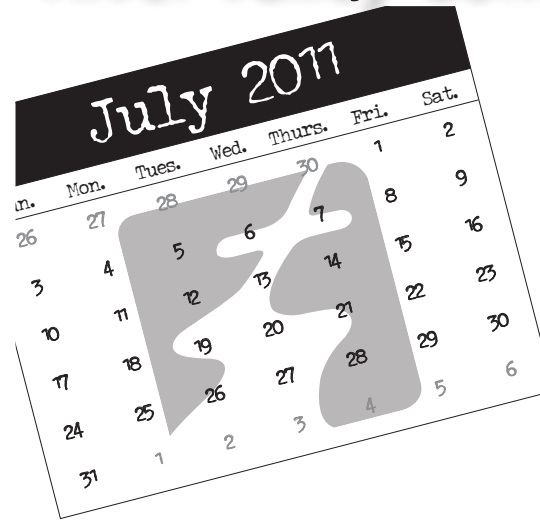

In Defining "Good" by What Doesn't Hurt Others:

1. You accept an important part of morality: loving others.
2. You ignore all the other moral realities.
3. You put yourself in an intellectual position that you cannot handle: knowing everything.
4. You cultivate extreme selfishness, which eventually hurts others.

Three Helpful Truths about Sin:
 (Matthew 4:1-11)

1. Sin is anything contrary to the will of God.
2. Sin is always hurtful to God, ourselves, and others.
3. To overcome the seduction of sin, we must listen to the voice of God over the voice of the Devil.
